The Teenage Team of the Eighties

Match Weekly turns the spotlight on the young

1. STEVE SUTTON

THE 19-year-old Nottingham Forest goalkeeper could not wish for a better schooling than to be understudy to England's Peter Shilton.

It's not often that Shilton is out of action, but the youngster tasted Division One life this season at Norwich and received the Match Weekly star rating in a 1-1 draw.

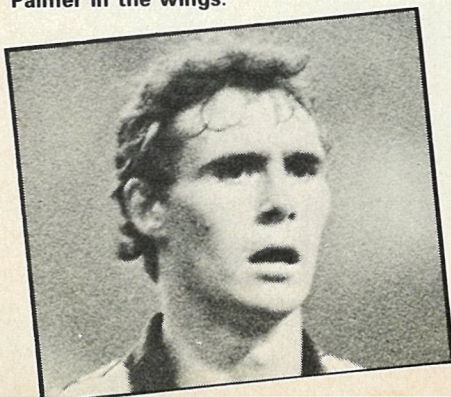

He also played in Forest's 4-1 League Cup disaster at Watford, but without some of his acrobatic saves the scoreline might have been even more decisive.

2. JOHN HUMPHREY

WOLVES manager John Barnwell has put his faith in the 19-year-old this season to the extent that John has been a regular in the number two shirt.

The Wembley born full-back made his Division One debut last season in the 3-0 win at Southampton, but after playing in the next match — a 3-0 defeat at Brighton — he was replaced again by Geoff Palmer.

This season the boot has been on the other foot with Humphrey showing enough potential and authority to keep Palmer in the wings.

THE WEALTH of teenage talent currently emerging in top class football is one of the most exciting aspects of today's game.

So this week Match has taken a special look at the Division One youngsters who we think could hold the key to England's international future.

We've put aside all thoughts of the next World Cup for a moment to consider the young stars who could figure in the 1986 Finals.

And after hours of fun and debate we've come up with this star studded line-up.

Now let's hear your suggestions. Send your letters to Teenage Teams, Match Weekly, Midgate House, Midgate, Peterborough.

3. MARK DENNIS

THE 19-year-old Birmingham full-back is one of the most experienced players in our 'super team', having played a major role in the club's return to Division One last season.

Although injury has cost him a regular slot in the side this term he has nevertheless plenty of Division One experience behind him, having made 31 appearances two seasons ago when the Blues were relegated.

An England youth international, he looks destined to step up an international grade in the near future.

4. STEVE MACKENZIE

THE potential in this 19-year-old Manchester City midfielder player was underlined when Malcolm Allison paid Crystal Palace more than £250,000 for his services before he had made his League debut.

Ironically, Mackenzie made his League debut against Crystal Palace on the opening day of last season, but after a run of 14 successive games he was left out of the team.

But Mackenzie returned to favour this season to play a prominent role in City's haul away from the relegation area under new manager John Bond.

5. ROB HINDMARCH

THE 19-year-old central defender has begun to make a name for himself in the North East since Ken Knighton brought him into the Division One fray on a regular basis in November.

Playing alongside the experienced Sam Allardyce has enabled the youngster to settle quickly into a vital role as Sunderland fight to consolidate their First Division status.

Hindmarch was given his chance during the second half of last season, playing in the last 16 matches as Sunderland clinched runners-up spot in Division Two.

MATCH TEAM

		1 Steve Sutton (Nottm Forest)
2 John Humphrey (Wolves)	5 Robert Hindmarch (Sunderland)	6 Tommy Caton (Man. City)	3 Mark Dennis (Birmingham)
8 Gary Mills (Nottm Forest)	4 Steve Mackenzie (Man. City)	10 Steve McMahon (Everton)
7 Clive Allen (C. Palace)	9 Justin Fashanu (Norwich)	11 Gary Shaw (Aston Villa)

8. GARY MILLS

ALTHOUGH Northampton-born Gary has not been a regular fixture in Nottingham Forest's senior side, he has, nevertheless, shown enormous potential in his stand-in role at the City Ground.

The 18-year-old midfielder-cum-striker has only had a handful of Division One appearances but has tasted life in European football, playing in some vital roles last season when Forest retained the European Cup. He is equally at home in attack or midfield and looks certain to go places when commanding a regular place in the First Division.

stars of the future

6. TOMMY CATON

THE 18-year-old Manchester City defender emerged as a future England player as soon as he forced his way into Malcolm Allison's side last season.

He made his debut on the opening day of last season and was ever-present as City fought a successful battle against relegation.

So although only 18 he has plenty of Division One experience at his disposal and would be a ready-made candidate to captain this 'super team'.

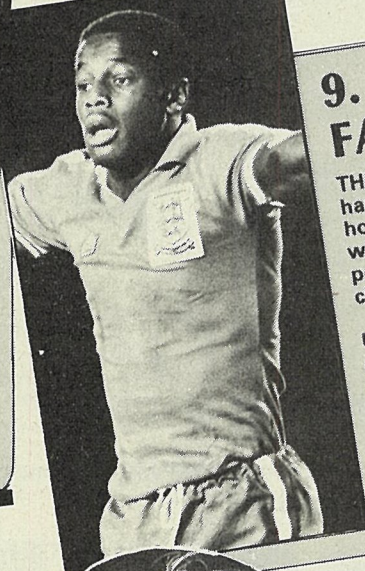

9. JUSTIN FASHANU

THE powerful Norwich striker has developed into one of the hottest properties in football with his consistent scoring performances for the Norfolk club.

The 19-year-old has several Under-21 caps and came close to making a full England debut in the World Cup match in Rumania.

Flanked in this 'Super Team' by Clive Allen and Gary Shaw, his power, particularly in the area, would prove a real asset to the livewire skills of the other two.

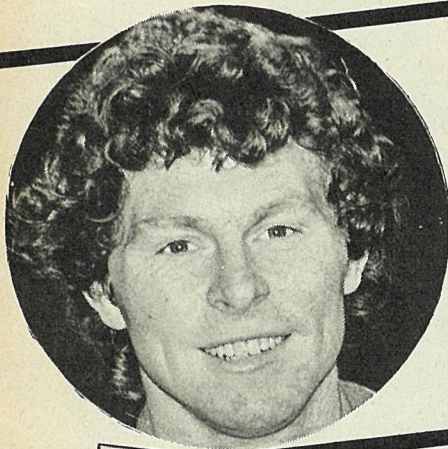

7. CLIVE ALLEN

AT 19-years-old, Crystal Palace striker Clive has the distinction of being the first £1 million teenager — even though he never made one competitive appearance for Arsenal.

Clive, son of former Spurs star Les, was the Football League's top scorer last season with 28 goals for Queen's Park Rangers.

He never had chance to show his scoring skills at Highbury before moving across London in the deal that took Kenny Sansom to Arsenal, but he was soon on target for his new club.

THIS 19-year-old Everton midfield player is being hailed on Merseyside as the new Alan Ball.

The Liverpool-born player was given his chance by Gordon Lee on the opening day of the season at Sunderland and has been a regular ever since.

The dynamic skills of the youngster have played a major part in Everton's success this season and his brilliant goal in the 2-2 draw against Tottenham figures in the BBC 'Goal of the Month' competition.

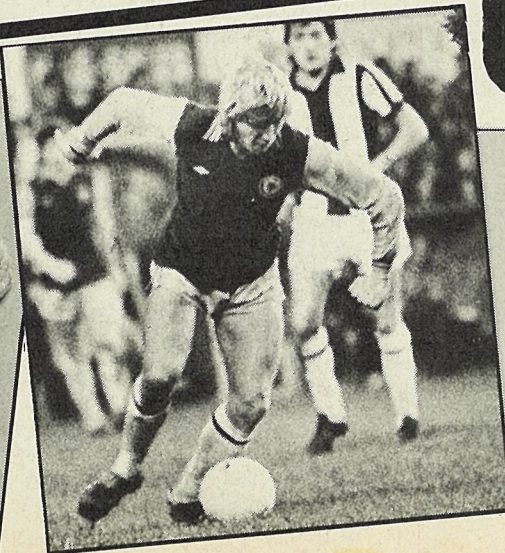

10. STEVE McMAHON

11. GARY SHAW

BLOND striker Gary Shaw has emerged as one of the First Division's most lethal players this season at only 19-years-old.

His ability to make the most of chances created by the power of Peter Withe has enabled Aston Villa to figure prominently in the First Division championship race.

Shaw made his Division One debut two years ago in the 1-1 draw with West Bromwich Albion, but it was only last season that he carved out a regular niche in the Villa side, finishing their top scorer with 12 goals.

Above: Second Division winner Roy McFarland, Derby. Far right: Brighton's Mike Robinson.

BRIGHTON striker Mike Robinson's December goal-spree has earned him the final Match Weekly First Division Matchman of the Month award for 1980.

The former Manchester City striker produced some inspired performances to see out the old year and helped push the 'Seagulls' away from the First Division relegation zone with five goals in as many games.

Mike crowned the month by grabbing two against Crystal Palace under the nose of former Maine Road boss Malcolm Allison — in Brighton's 3-2 home win.

The goals must have been extra special to Mike for he was discarded by Allison at the beginning of the season after just one year at Maine Road. But since the arrival of Andy Ritchie earlier this season from Manchester United Mike's form in front of goal has been a revelation.

Nicknamed Robbo by his team mates, he finished the month with an average of 7.8 to finish clear of Liverpool's discovery of the season Sammy Lee.

Coventry kids for Wembley

COVENTRY have achieved so much without ever winning anything and I'd love to see them get to Wembley.

I think they will for three reasons; the enthusiasm of the youngsters in the side, their ability to score goals and the fact that they are the First Division side.

Of course West Ham beat us in the quarter-finals and what impressed me most about them was their determination — especially along the back four.

Having a goalkeeper like Phil Parkes behind them is a big help but they showed a lot of aggression.

One man Coventry will really have to watch is Trevor Brooking in midfield.

He's not going back to do as much defensive work as he used to and he's now scoring more goals per game than he's ever done.

Alongside him in midfield is Alan Devonshire. He's brilliant at picking up the ball deep and taking people on.

And up front West Ham have David Cross and Paul Goddard who seem to have hit it off — they are scoring plenty of goals between them.

As for Coventry they are a young team full of enthusiasm — a factor which in itself can sometimes get you through — but they have ability as well.

Gerry Daly in midfield is probably the biggest single influence on the team.

Up front Garry Thompson and Mark Hateley appear to be the first choice pairing now and they've done well together.

At the back they have Paul Dyson and Gary Gillespie. Paul's always been a very good player and it was always just a matter of time before he made it as a First Division player.

Gary is another good player and although he's still young he's played for the last three seasons now.

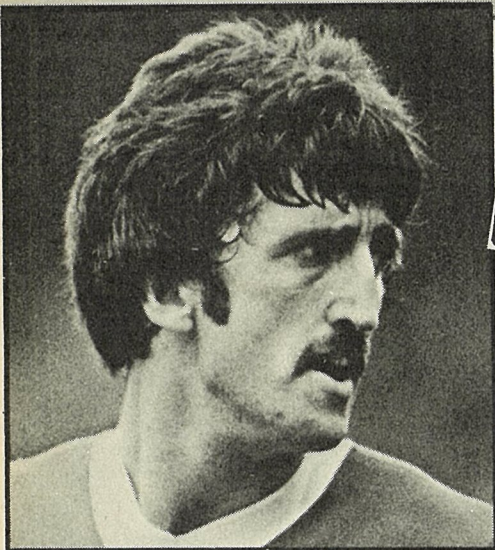

And let's not forget midfielder Andy Blair, who is a very athletic player with a good shot, and the naturally left-footed Steve Hunt who has been Coventry's best player this season.

I can foresee two very open, entertaining ties and I take Coventry to win 3-2 on aggregate.

As for the other semi-final I have to go with Liverpool. Manchester City's problem is that three of their four new signings — Gerry Gow, Tommy Hutchison and Bobby MacDonald — all cup-tied.

Left: Trevor Brooking of West Ham — scoring more goals per game now than he's ever done.

FINAL PREVIEW

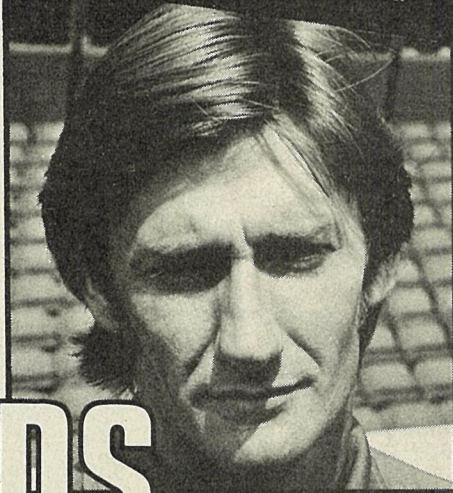

Liverpool's David Johnson

● THERE'S only one winner for me — Liverpool.
I'd love to be able to predict a shock result but I just can't see Manchester City matching Liverpool's all-round strength.
Even when things aren't going well for the League Champions they have players who can turn a game on their own.
When we played them at Anfield in the last round we gave away a silly corner and Terry McDermott let fly with a volley on the edge of the box which flew past me — before that they had not played particularly well.
They possess an amazing number of players who can score goals — both in midfield and attack.
Kenny Dalglish is always going to get a goal out of nothing and I rate his partner

MAN CITY

Birmingham City

Liverpool
will power through

David Johnson very highly indeed.
As far Manchester City we played them in October straight after John Bond had taken over and they looked terrible. It was a dismal game and we won 1-0 with a penalty in the final minutes.
But Bond seems to have instilled new confidence in the team and they will be a different proposition now.
Manchester City could hold out for a draw in the first leg at Maine Road — but I've no doubts that Liverpool will power through at Anfield.
As for the other semi-final, I can't see the young kids of Coventry overcoming the experienced West Ham.

STRATTON On the League Cup

PREPARE yourselves for an action replay of last year's Charity Shield . . . it's Liverpool and West Ham for the League Cup final.
I fancy Manchester City and Coventry might provide a more entertaining clash beneath the twin towers.
Certainly the Shield game between the 'Reds' and the 'Hammers' was poor value for money for the thousands that packed Wembley to watch he season's annual curtain raiser.

But no way can I see Liverpool falling at the final hurdle and Coventry's hopes of glory will be gently laid to rest at Upton Park.
The fact that the semi-final ties are two-leg affairs (and how I wish they'd scrap the idea) only strengthens my belief that it will be a Cockney-Merseyside sing-song on March 14.
Liverpool and West Ham are both at home for the second and deciding tie and that makes the task of their opponents all the more daunting.
That's not to say Coventry and Manchester City will be anyone's pushovers.

Steve Coppel

IT'S GREAT to see Ray Wilkins back in action again — I know how frustrating it has been for him sitting on the treatment table looking out over our training ground.

We've all missed him — he's the inspiration in our side, he's fabulous for spreading and switching the play and giving us that little bit extra.

With his flair we might have won a few more games.

Ray's also a great boost in our Dwarfs v Giants practice matches — the under five-foot-eights against the rest. Now he's back, Messrs Coppel, Macari, Thomas, Sloan, Albiston and Wilkins have proved almost unbeatable against the likes of Jovanovic, McQueen, Bailey, Nicholl, Moran and Duxbury!

Great to see you, Ray

Steve Coppel — the Manchester United and England dynamo — writes only in Match Weekly.

Above: Phil Parkes — the key to a Hammers victory.

Mr Inspiration

I WAS sorry to see Jimmy Greenhoff leave Old Trafford. He has been a good friend and an inspiration to me as a player with his unselfish running and clever flicks.

I'm sure he'll do the same for some Crewe Alexandra youngsters and I wish him well.

Meanwhile, I'm keeping a close eye on Jimmy's promising nephew Alan Stevenson . . . a right winger on our apprentice staff!

My annual event

HOPE you all had a good Christmas. I got my usual present from my mum — a selection box of sweets and a comic annual — just like the previous 20 years! I look forward to it, Christmas wouldn't be the same without 'Tough of the Track' and Christmas pud . . . I hope it didn't show against Liverpool on Boxing day!

Radio rock

THOSE of you in the Manchester area may have heard Gary Bailey and I rockin' the night away on New Year's Eve. We thoroughly enjoyed our stint as disc jockeys on Piccadilly Radio. Hope you did too, if you heard it.

As well as our own favourites Uriah Heep (Gary) and Dire Straits (me) we played requests for Jimmy Nicholl (Rod Stewart), Nikki Jovanovic (ELO) and Gordon McQueen (Justin Hayward), but decided Lou Macari's request for Johnny Mathis was out of keeping!

PARKES THE KEY

PHIL Parkes stands between Coventry City and their first ever Wembley final.

I believe he's the key to a Hammers victory over the Sky Blues in the League Cup semi-final.

A club needs a strong last line of defence in cup-ties and in a two-leg clash like this they don't come any better than Parkes.

I take West Ham to hold them in the first leg and win 2-1 in the return.

It's got to be my home town Liverpool in the other match against Manchester City. They're like a machine, though Phil Boyer could be a spanner in the works.

I'll be there watching both legs and may the best team win. I reckon 3-0 to Liverpool, overall.

James' little gem

ROBBIE JAMES

Division Two, Vetch
Field, Swansea,
December 13, 1980.

SLICK Swansea kept up their First Division promotion bid with the 4-0 demolition of once mighty Newcastle.

But Robbie James was not only fighting to get Swansea in the top flight for the first time ever but for his place in the side.

And he responded in the best possible way with two goals — the first a real gem after a flowing Swansea move.

With new signing Alan Curtis watching from the dug-out and waiting to take his place in the Swans attack, the striker knew the pressure was on.

"It was a particularly pleasing goal because I have been in and out of the team this season and getting one so early in the game helped my confidence.

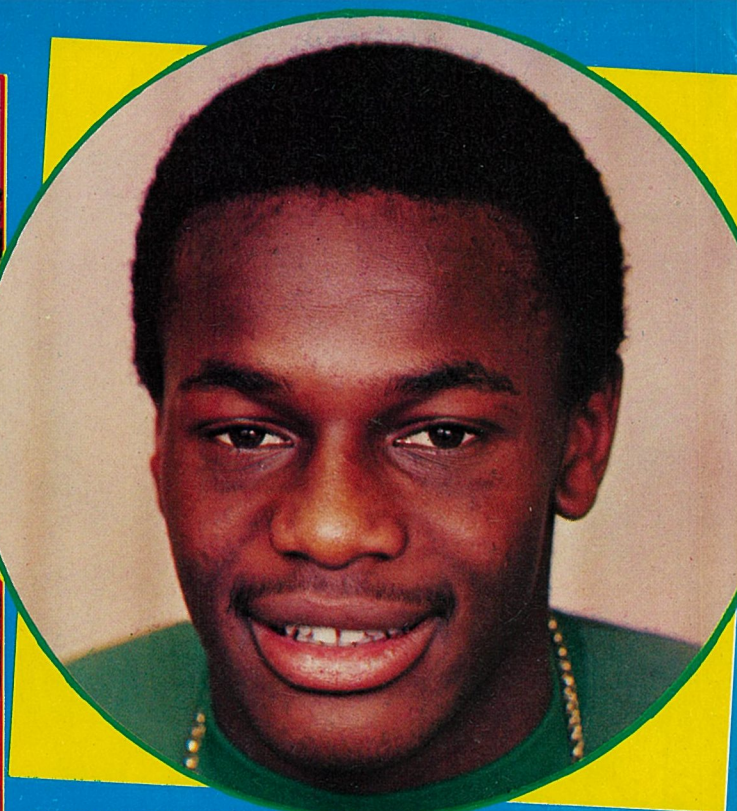

"I remember that Dave Rushbury found Leighton James on the left wing with a great ball. Leighton weaved some of his magic and crossed the ball low and hard.

"Newcastle were trying to play the offside trap but as I had run from the centre circle to meet the ball there was no question of me being caught out.

"The cross found me and I just chipped it in," said Robbie modestly.

Richards chases 167

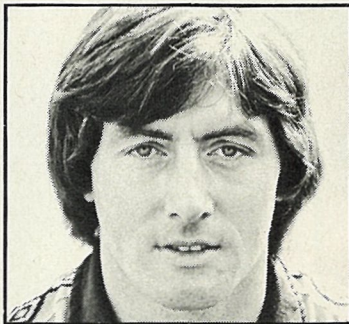

WOLVES striker John Richards could break his club's all-time scoring record by the end of the season.

For club skipper John is within striking distance of Billy Hartill's 167 goal tally set between 1928-35.

Just before Christmas John was 13 goals behind the record. He is also close to the most league goals of 159, also set by Hartill.

Said John: 'You don't think about records while you're playing but it would be nice to have your name in the record books for all time.'

John, who has picked up two League Cup winners medals in his 11 years at Molineux, made his debut in February 1970.

WOLVES striker John Richards — on the verge of breaking his club's all-time scoring record.

Spurs' find

SPURS manager Keith Burkinshaw has been noted as one of soccer's big spenders but he certainly pulled off a shrewd bit of business by plucking midfielder Graham Roberts from non-League Weymouth for £30,000.

Roberts, who has also had experience with Dorchester and was on Portsmouth's books, went to White Hart Lane in May and Burkinshaw now says:

"I knew when I bought him that he needed experience, but he impressed me immensely in the reserves and rose to the occasion well when given his first-team chance.

"He makes things happen for us just like Steve Perryman — and those sort of players are winners."

Going cheap

THERE have been over 30 cases of Football League clubs paying six-figure fees for players from Scottish League clubs.

But when did ANY player come into the English game from either Northern Ireland or Eire costing as much as £100,000?

Surely no-one is going to argue that Scottish players are really worth all that more than the cream of their Irish counterparts . . . or are they?

Goals galore

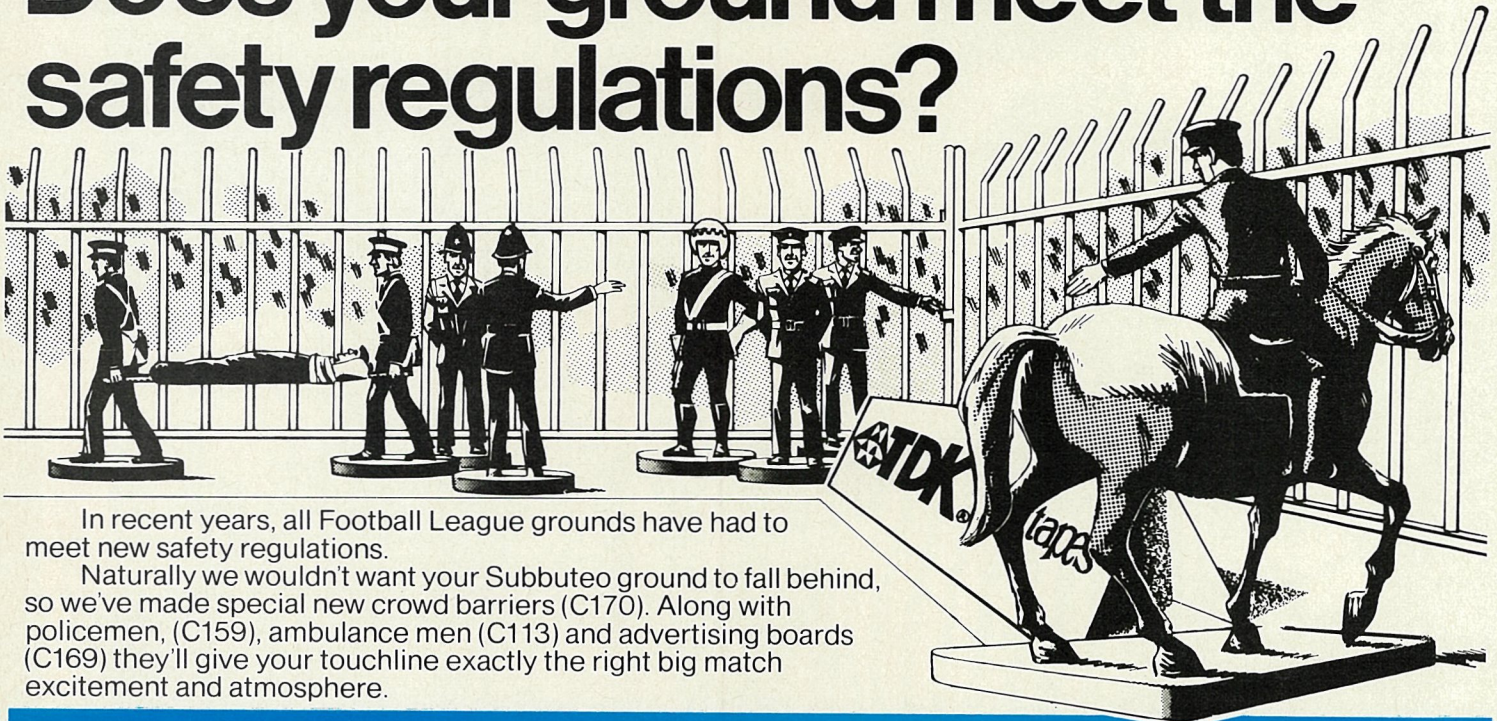

IF YOU add up the number of goals scored in the Football League on Saturday chances are it will come to between 100 and 120.

That's the average tally week in, week out now, so is it too much to hope the total will ever climb to the record figure reached on January 2, 1932, and February 1, 1936 . . . 209 goals in each case!

Does your ground meet the safety regulations?

In recent years, all Football League grounds have had to meet new safety regulations.

Naturally we wouldn't want your Subbuteo ground to fall behind, so we've made special new crowd barriers (C170). Along with policemen (C159), ambulance men (C113) and advertising boards (C169) they'll give your touchline exactly the right big match excitement and atmosphere.

Francis boost for Wilkins

WHILE Trevor Francis returned in glory to Nottingham Forest's first team, his England team-mate Ray Wilkins was making his first real step towards a Manchester United comeback.

As Trevor took all the applause after scoring in Forest's 3-1 win over Sunderland, Ray was trudging off the pitch at Old Trafford after his first run-out in the reserves.

And Ray admits that the successful comeback of Trevor gave him the encouragement he needed.

"I saw Trevor in a reserve game at Old Trafford and he looked very aggressive and sharp. There's always a doubt you might not be as good as you used to be and seeing Trevor boosted my confidence," said Ray.

Ray was due to make his comeback to United's first team in the New Year after a stomach injury had kept him out all season.

"It's been a long drawn out injury and I'm glad it's all over — there were times when I got really cheesed off.

"Once I started training with the other lads I began to feel much better — running to get back to full fitness on your own can be very depressing.

"United have had a disastrous season with injuries but at least it has given first team opportunities to youngsters like Mike Duxbury.

"At the moment I am looking no further than consolidating my place in the Manchester United first team," added Ray.

New look for internationals

THE HOME International Championships could be given a new format.

Discussions have taken place between the four associations and it looks certain that the current system of spreading the matches throughout one week at the end of the season will be axed.

The Championships have come under constant criticism in recent years because many people find them dull and boring.

The current format was introduced in 1968 but has not fired the fans' imagination.

It may be that the associations will revert back to the old system when the matches were spread throughout the season.

Another topic on the agenda at the meeting was the possibility of suspending the 1982 tournament because of our World Cup commitments.

Finders 'keepers

IF AND when Chesterfield ever sell goalkeeper John Turner chances are he will join an incredible list of 'keepers to have been sold to bigger clubs.

Former Chesterfield 'keepers to have moved up the ladder include: Steve Ogrizovic (Liverpool), Steve Hardwick (Newcastle), Alan Stevenson (Burnley) and Glen Lethereren (Swansea), while Leeds' John Lukic was born there.

And don't forget that the great Gordon Banks one of the greatest goalkeepers in the world began his career at Saltergate.

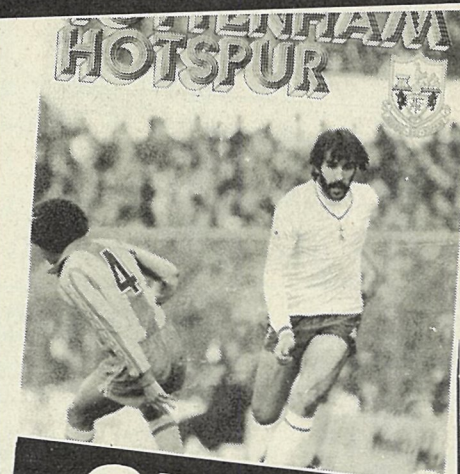

Striker-light!

ROTHERHAM United came up with a novel idea in a bid to beat soccer's dwindling attendances by putting on a circus prior to their recent Third Division clash with Brentford at Millmoor.

Jugglers, acrobats, clowns, horses, performing dogs and even fire-eaters, as you can see, helped amuse the fans.

But Brentford didn't see the funny side they were really put through the hoop to the tune of a 4-1 defeat!

Programme Guide

SPURS

SPURS' ground at White Hart Lane may be in a state of upheaval as the builders complete the new stand, but there's nothing haphazard about their programme.

The North London club produce a very colourful magazine for their fans on the terraces.

There was colour throughout the issue including some splendid action shots and pin-ups of Spurs players.

We looked at the programme for the recent home game against Manchester City and for his 30p the fan got 24 bright pages.

The quality of the pictures were very good, but there were no features on the players or a column by the manager to back them up. However, a feature on ex-player Joe Kinnear took the eye.

City's details included a match by match record of their season so far and reports of three previous encounters between the clubs.

Good marks, too, for a good competition and crossword page.

TACKLE A STAR

TIM DEAS,

from Woodthorpe, Nottingham

WHAT is your pre-match meal, and what are your ambitions in the game?

TONY: Well, Tim, I like an odd mixture of food before a game. My menu usually consists of: Sugar Puffs, fruit salad, followed by tea, toast and jam.

All these give you energy and are easy to digest. I have tried steak and fish — but I always come back to my original menu.

As for ambitions in the game... I would love to win a major honour with Villa.

We are a very young side and I believe it will be our own fault if we don't carry off a major honour in the next couple of years.

I would also love to play for England. Earlier this season I was called up as a late replacement for the England 'B' game against Australia and played the last 20 minutes at St Andrew's, Birmingham.

It's good to know that the England selectors have me in mind — and at 24-years-old I have not given up hope of a full cap.

MIDDLESBROUGH and England star David Armstrong is soon to appear in Tackle a Star.

So if you have something you want to ask David, send in your question now.

WALTER MCKEOWN

Strathclyde, Scotland...

WHAT are your interests outside the game, and how do you relax after a match?

TONY: I enjoy shooting and swimming although I don't have much time to do either of these nowadays because I am busy moving into a new house in the Birmingham area.

I am very tense after a match so I usually go straight home and relax.

Then at about 8.30pm I like to go out for a meal and a drink with some friends and wind down properly.

KEVIN EDWARDS,

from Weddington, Nuneaton, Warks:

DO you prefer playing on the left side of midfield and coming inside to shoot with your right foot, or the other way round?

TONY: I am lucky enough to be able to play on both flanks, although I must admit that being naturally right-footed I prefer it on the right.

I enjoy coming inside and having a crack at goal — and this season it has paid off. I shall be upset if I can't get into double figures.

My job is to break wide to support the attack when we are in possession and come back to help the midfield when they have the ball.

DAVID DUNBAR,

Erdington, Birmingham...

HOW good do you think Aston Villa are, and have they got what it takes to win the First Division championship?

TONY: The present squad is very strong indeed and I believe we are capable of winning the title. We won't get a better chance than we have now.

Many people began to doubt us as championship challengers following our recent poor spell — but we are still confident that we can have a big say in where the trophy ends up.

We have played all the big teams away from home — so have nothing to fear. Liverpool and Ipswich have still to come to Villa Park.

HEARD the one about the Scotsman who, on his return from the World Cup in Argentina, strangled his pigeons because they kept on saying: "Peru, Peru!"
Robert Salton, Cambridge.

"A TALL dark stranger will bring you bad news."

Huddersfield's Andy Rankin — third in the race to find the Third Division's top stopper.

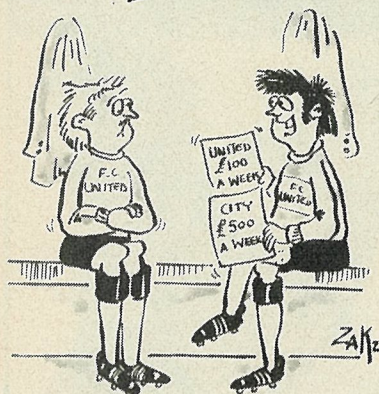

Rotherham's Ray Mountford . . . Nicky Johns main rival in the Third Division, but still a long way behind the leader.

Below: Nicky Johns in typical action for Charlton. He had an incredible record at the half way stage, conceding on average one goal every 270 minutes of play.

FOOTNOTE: Match Weekly acknowledges the part played by defenders in establishing these goalkeeping records.

It's Fun Time

"My head says stay with United, my heart says stay with United, but my wallet says go to City."

THE MANAGER of a relegation haunted First Division club collapsed and went into a coma.

He was taken to the city's Northern Hospital. When he awoke he asked: "Where am I?"

"You're in the Northern," replied the nurse.

"What's happened to the Second, Third and Fourth Divisions?" asked the bemused boss.
Iain Alexander (14), Holyhead, Anglesey.

CHAIRMAN (of FA Disciplinary Committee): "I have no alternative but to fine you, Jimmy Smith, £100".
Jimmy: "American Express?"
Chairman "That will do nicely".
Duncan Smart (9), Chilwell, Notts.

DIVISIONS THREE AND FOUR

TOP STOPPERS

CHARLTON Athletic have emerged as Division Three championship contenders this season — and little wonder with the safe hands of Nicky Johns as the last line of defence.

During the first half of the season the former Millwall and Tampa Bay goalkeeper conceded only five goals in 15 matches that's an incredible average of one goal every 270 minutes.

Remarkably he kept 12 clean sheets in that spell as Mike Bailey's side produced a club record sequence of unbeaten matches.

Also impressive was the record of Lincoln City's David Felgate, the Fourth Division's safest 'keeper at the half-way stage with only 11 goals conceded in 20 matches . . . an average of 164 minutes per goal.

Felgate lost his place in the Lincoln side when manager Colin Murphy signed former Derby 'keeper Colin Boulton, but he had to be recalled when the new arrival broke a leg.

Two Rotherham 'keepers appear in the top four in Division Three, Ray Mountford (129 minutes per goal) and Graham Brown (111).

Sandwiched between them is veteran Andy Rankin, the former Everton favourite now helping Huddersfield stay in the promotion race.

THE FIRST column in the table below shows the number of games played. The second column shows the number of goals conceded and the third column is the average number of minutes between each goal.

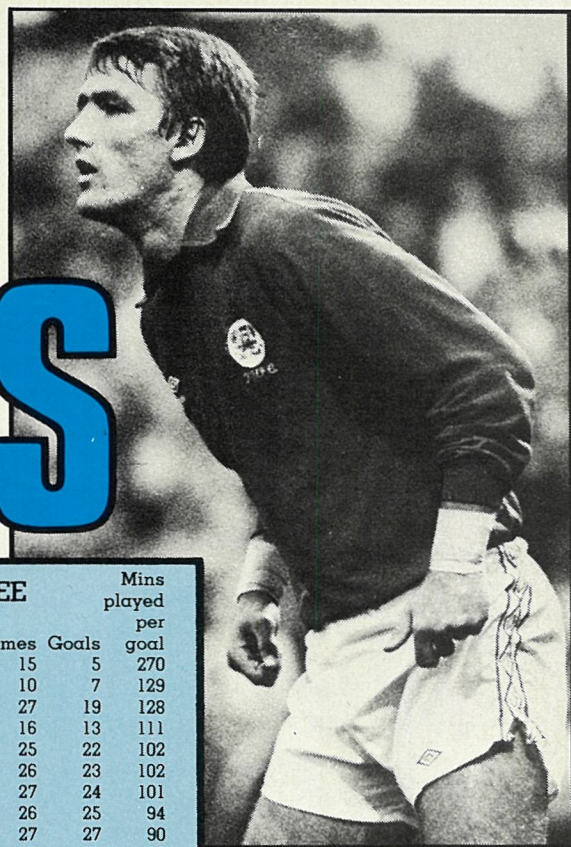

Note: Only League, League Cup and FA Cup matches up to and including those played on December 6 have been used in the compilation of this table.

STAR GALLERY

Above: This marvellous likeness of Leeds Argentinian star Alex Sabella was sent in by 13-year-old Peter Attaway who says: "Alex is my favourite player and although he is overshadowed by Ardiles and Thissjen he can be a world beater on his day."

Above: Garth Crooks through the eyes of Iain Holmans (11) of Margate, Kent. Says Iain: "I drew Garth because he is one of my favourite Spurs players. He has tremendous ability and is one of Spurs best ever buys."

Eleven year old Ian Wheale of Redditch, Worcestershire, sent us this drawing of West Brom's Bryan Robson, and says of the young England star: "He is one of the most talented young players in the First Division."

Left: Mark Humpage of Market Drayton, Shropshire, delivered this fine drawing of Manchester United's Arthur Albiston with the note: "Arthur has been a consistent performer in the United defence over the past few seasons and now deserves a full Scottish cap."

Our Star Gallery feature has really captured your imagination.

You have flooded us with drawings of your favourite players . . . and we want you to keep sending them in.

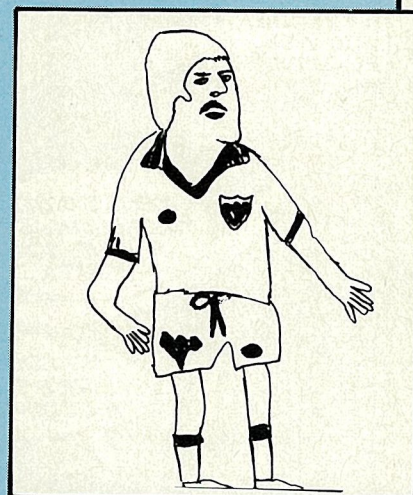

It's great fun having a go and you could win yourself £2 in the process.

Just send us your drawing together with a small note telling us why you think your chosen player deserves a place in the Match Weekly Star Gallery.

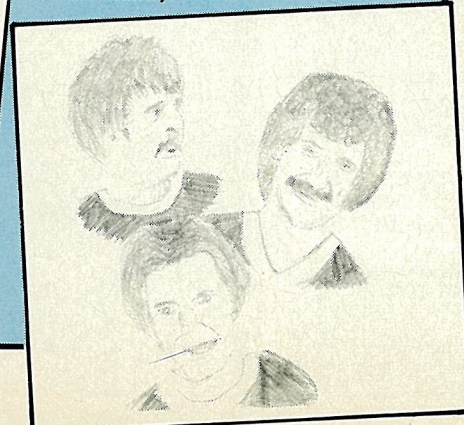

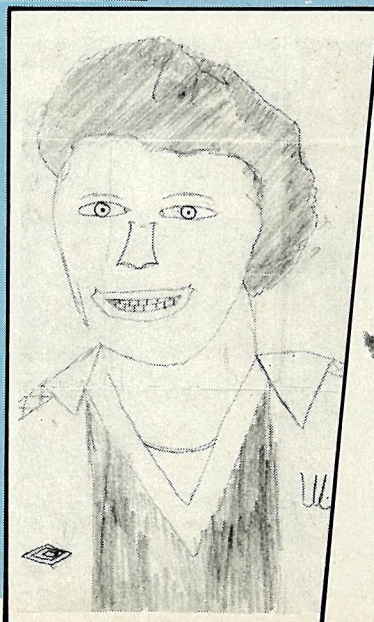

Write to Star Gallery, Match Weekly, Midgate House, Midgate, Peterborough.

Meanwhile here's a small selection of those drawings we have received so far . . .

Below: Alan Browning (12) of Berkeley, Glos., obviously used our fabulous Matchmaker poster of Alan Sunderland as a guide in drawing this action shot of the Arsenal star of whom he says: "He deserves a place in Star Gallery for scoring the winning goal in the FA Cup Final against Manchester United — just one of his many goals for Arsenal."

Below: Three for the price of one! This trio of Liverpool stars — David Johnson, Terry McDermott and Phil Neal — was drawn by Martin Bentham (15) of Bolton, Lancs., who wrote: "They are three of the best who play for the best. Johnson and McDermott make a precise partnership capable of beating any defence and Neal's defensive ability is unquestionably among the best in the country."

A broken leg —but ref thought I was kidding

DATELINE: January 6, 1975 . . . Bobby Gould heads what proves to be the West Ham winner at Southampton in the third round of the FA Cup despite playing with a broken leg for thirty minutes.

Bobby, now Chelsea's assistant manager, recalls the incident which possibly cost him his place in West Ham's Wembley winning side against Fulham later that season.

"I was injured very early on in a challenge with Southampton's Peter Osgood that could only be described as very naughty.

"I received treatment at the time and the West Ham physio thought the injury was only bruising.

"Frank Lampard put us in front, and, despite the pain from my injury, I headed the second from a corner just before half-time. It proved to be the decisive goal.

"As I left the field at half time I complained to referee Gordon Hill about Osgood's tackle, and when I rolled down my sock to show him the injury, I saw for the first time how bad it was.

"Obviously, there was no chance of me continuing and Pat Holland replaced me in the second half. An X-ray after the match revealed a break and I was out for about three months.

"With West Ham doing so well at the time I didn't get back into the side until the semi-final, but Pat Holland was preferred to me in the final."

The aggressive look so reminiscent of his playing days still shows on the face of Chelsea's assistant manager Bobby Gould (second right) on the trainer's bench.

Blissett's one-man show

DATELINE: January 9, 1979 . . . Luther Blissett grabs two goals in extra time against Stoke City to send Third Division Watford into the semi-finals of the League Cup for the first time.

After holding First Division Stoke to a goalless draw in the Potteries there was eager anticipation in North London about the outcome of the fifth round replay.

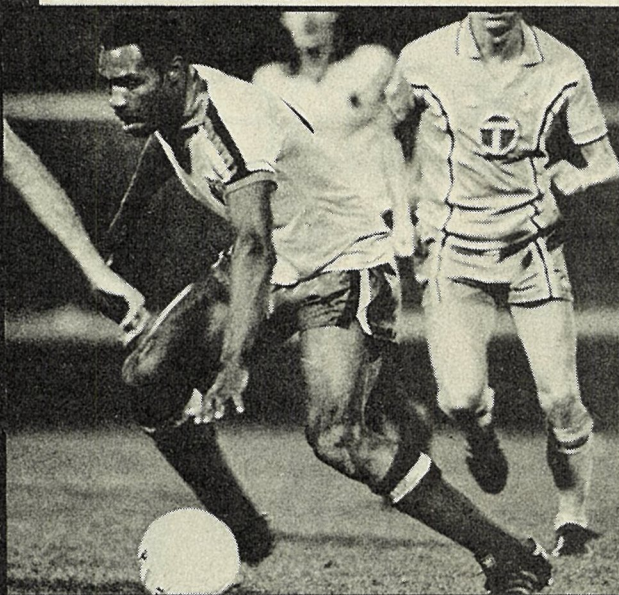

And when Ross Jenkins put the home side ahead, a semi-final clash with Nottingham Forest loomed even larger.

But with ten minutes remaining Stoke's Paul Richardson snatched an equaliser to send the pulsating tie into extra time . . . and that was the cue for Luther Blissett's one-man show.

"We just kept battling away in extra time and were rewarded when Keith Cassells, who had replaced Alan Mayes, cut the ball back from the bye-line and I turned it home from about six yards," said Luther.

"My second goal came right near the end when Ross Jenkins crossed from the right, but by then Stoke were virtually finished."

Watford's dreams of Wembley ended in the semi-finals when they lost 3-1 to eventual winners Nottingham Forest.

Watford's Luther Blissett in action during the League Cup fifth round replay defeat at Coventry this season.

DATELINE: January 9, 1979 . . .

CHARLTON strikers Derek Hales and Mike Flanagan were sent off after a punch-up in an FA Cup-tie against Maidstone.

DATELINE: January 6, 1978 . . .

SCOTTISH international striker Joe Jordan joins Manchester United from Leeds for £350,000.

DATELINE: January 6, 1975 . . .

BRIAN Clough takes over as manager of Nottingham Forest just three days after Allan Brown had been sacked on the eve of a cup match against Tottenham.

DATELINE: January 6, 1974 . . .

AN historic day for British football with four FA Cup ties played on a Sunday and welcomed by large attendances. The Bolton v Stoke tie attracted 40,000, twice the Lancashire club's average gate.

Justin's just not got it

You're
off!

I AM sick and tired of hearing Norwich City's Justin Fashanu being hailed as a great player just because he scored the BBC's 'Goal of the Season'.

Just because he scored a good goal when the television cameras were there doesn't mean he's made it.

Yours angrily,
Ian Greener, Canon
Pye, Hereford.

● TAKE an early bath. You're sent off for talking such twaddle. Don't forget Justin's led the First Division goal charts since the start of the season.

OUTRAGED!

I'M Anthony Hawkswell and I'm in charge of the Outraged column.

I'll stand no nonsense... any back chat and you could get sent off!

I'll be giving the red card to what I judge to be the letter of the week. And yellow cards to any others published.

And to make it more interesting I'll pay £5 for the red card and £2 for each yellow card.

But be warned. I'm the ref and my decisions stand!

Send your letters to Outraged, Match Weekly, Midgate House, Midgate, Peterborough.

Play on, referee

I THINK refs should play the advantage rule more often.

They often stop the flow of play by blowing the whistle too soon.

There have been many occasions when teams would have been able to score if the referee had not blown the whistle as soon as the foul was committed.

If they played the advantage more often the game would be much more attractive. George Mixides (13), Barnet, Herts.

● YOU'LL get no leeway from me — you're booked! The referee has a difficult job to do and most of them do it very well! I'll stand no criticism of the ref.

book!

You're

Anglo Scottish Super Cup

I THINK that the FA Cup and the Scottish Cup should be amalgamated to make one super competition.

With all the money floating around English clubs it would be a great benefit to Scottish teams and I think it would be more interesting.

Stuart Wood, Drifffield, Yorks.

● ANOTHER boring Anglo-Scottish Cup instead of the glamour of the FA Cup? NEVER! You're booked.

"It's top of the league."

"The Grundig RR220 is one of the finest radio recorders around.

It costs about £66, and for that you get a superb 4-band radio with a cassette recorder that includes Grundig Intermix and record mute facilities.

The powerful 2½w output gives the RR220 its great sound. And if that's not enough, it looks good as well.

You're onto a winner with Grundig."

GRUNDIG
Precisely Grundig. Precisely right.

WHAT YOU SAY ABOUT KEEGAN

They're out to get you, Kev

IT WOULD have been easier for Kevin Keegan to have pitched his tent in Italy or Spain — because so many people in England are just waiting for him to fail.

But I don't think Kev has failed. Sure he has had a lot of trouble with injuries — but he has proved his class in the few games he has played for Southampton.

Many people are jealous of him because of the money he earns but I reckon he is worth every penny he gets.

It seems to me that when Kev does play many players are out to get him and make sure he gets injured, and I think that's terrible.

Sallie Freemantle (14), Bitterne, Southampton

Give Keegan a chance

I WAS disgusted to read a letter in 'Match' recently describing Kevin Keegan's return to English football as a 'failure'.

In my opinion he has received some terrible treatment from his so called 'fellow' professionals.

Kevin is one of the very few world class English players and his contribution to the Southampton side can't be accurately gauged until he has enjoyed an extended run in the team.

Give Kevin a chance to prove his ability now he is back from injury before knocking him.

David Moseby, Houghton-le-Spring, Tyne and Wear

Canaries can't win

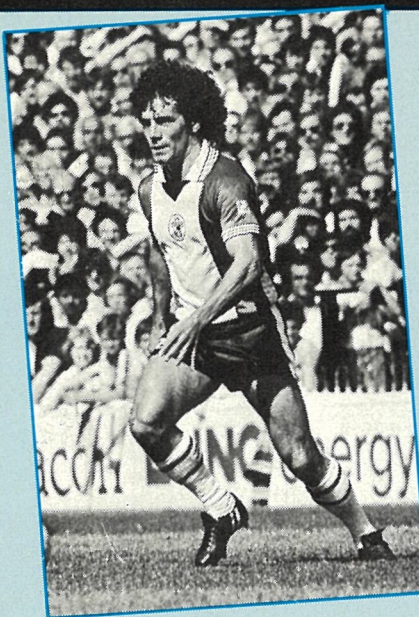

I CAN'T help feeling sorry for Norwich City — there's no way they can hope to get anywhere if all their best players want to leave.

Take Kevin Reeves as an example. He made his name with the Norfolk club and then moved on to a bigger and better club.

A few months ago manager John Bond left Carrow Road to join Kevin at Manchester City and it now looks as though Justin Fashanu and John's son, Kevin, are on their way as well.

No wonder The Canaries aren't classed as a glamour club when all their best players leave.

Kevin Graham, Beccles, Suffolk

A marked man

I WAS pleased — and surprised — to hear that Kevin Keegan was coming back to England to join Southampton.

But ever since the start of the season he has been plagued by injury, and in the games he has played he has been a marked man.

Well done Kevin for coming back — I am sure you'll have a good future with Southampton now you have recovered from injury.

Dawn Green (16), Nottingham

TERRACE TALK

Show us the STARS

MUCH has been said recently about the poor attendances for England 'B' and under-21 games.

The idea of charging half-price admission fees has been put forward — but I think the solution is much easier.

Why not play the matches on Third or Fourth Division grounds? The supporters of those teams don't get much chance to see the stars in action and this would allow them to do so.

The grounds may not be as good as those in the First Division but the atmosphere created by the bigger crowd would help compensate.

On top of this it would also provide much needed revenue for the smaller clubs.

Caroline Sheldrick, Kings Heath, Northampton.

Past greats

LOOKING through my Match Facts I came across this team of former Derby County players who are still in League action today.

Here's my team: David McKellar (Brentford), David Langan (Birmingham), Aiden McCaffery (Bristol Rovers), Gerry Daly (Coventry), Steve Wicks (Queens Park Rangers), Colin Todd (Birmingham), Terry Curran (Sheffield Wednesday), Archie Gemmill (Birmingham), Charlie George (Southampton), Andy Crawford (Blackburn), Gordon Hill (Queens Park Rangers). Manager: Colin Addison.

Simon Nuttall (13), Utttoxeter, Staffs.

● CAN you beat that team? Write in with your selections for your favourite team's past greats — Editor.

TV take note

LOOKING through 'Match Facts' in Match Weekly recently I noticed that many of the ratings for games in the Third and Fourth Division's were better than those in the higher leagues.

I wish the television companies would take note of this and show more games from the lower divisions.

Howard Larking, Bournemouth, Dorset.

Whatever happened to . . .

WHAT on earth has happened to West Bromwich Albion striker John Deehan?

The last time I saw him was last season, in action against his former club, Aston Villa.

I was very impressed by him and thought he had lots of skill and looked capable of scoring plenty of goals.

I think he would do a great job alongside big Cyrille Regis with winger Peter Barnes providing the crosses.

David Kirby (14), Scunthorpe, South Humberside

● John has made a couple of first team appearances this season but has spent most of his time in the reserves — Editor.

Right: West Brom striker John Deehan — reduced to the occasional appearance in the first team.

Building a place for Europe

WITH all the building work that's going on down at White Hart Lane it's a bit chaotic on match days.

The old West Stand is being demolished to make way for a new building.

And while it will be fantastic when the work's finished it's a bit inconvenient at present.

We're having to get changed in temporary cabins and I'm sure the upheaval affected our concentration the first time we experienced the new arrangements.

We were playing West Brom and gave away three early goals. We managed to pull a couple back, but it wasn't enough and we lost our unbeaten home record.

It's strange because there's no fans down one side of the pitch and you can see right into the street in between the bulldozers and cranes!

However we came back from that defeat to win our next two home matches against Manchester City and Ipswich.

The 5-3 victory over Ipswich was a great result for us but then we followed up with a 4-1 defeat at Middlesbrough the following Saturday.

We played well going forward at Ayresome Park and we could just as easily have won the game 3-2 but that's the way things have been going for us this season.

We need to be more consistent and if we can just put together a good unbeaten run we'll be on course for a place in Europe next season.

I'm sure we are good enough and I think our style of football would be good in European competition, but of course, we have to get there first!

The Spurs and England midfield ace writes exclusively for you in Match Weekly

Liverpool for me

THE LEAGUE Cup semi-final first leg ties are played next week and I'm sure I don't need to tell you how much we'd like to be involved!

Our defeat at West Ham in the quarter finals was a terrible blow but you just have to pick yourselves up.

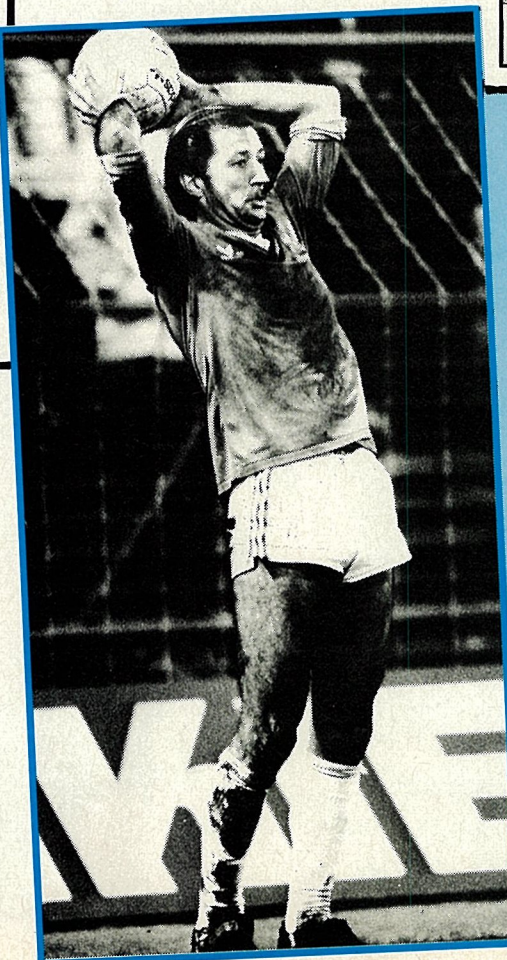

A footballer must live from week to week.

I fancy Liverpool and West Ham to make the final now . . . with the Reds going on to win the cup.

Personally, can't see West Ham beating Coventry at Highfield Road, but their goal power should take them through in the second leg at Upton Park.

Liverpool meanwhile have done well at Manchester City in the past and you've got to say they'll win the home leg.

Football's a funny game and anything can happen, but at this stage I'd be a fool not to back Liverpool to lift the trophy.

Out to beat the Blues

BIRMINGHAM are our opponents at White Hart Lane on Saturday and naturally we'll be looking to reverse our 2-1 defeat at their place earlier in the season.

We played some brilliant stuff at St Andrew's and even their manager Jim Smith said we were unlucky . . . let's hope the luck's with us this time.

The following Saturday it's the big one — home to Arsenal.

While they beat us in the League at Highbury, we broke the hoo-doo they seemed to have over us by knocking them out of the League Cup.

It's important that we get on top early on in the game. If we can get an early goal Arsenal will have to come out and play.

They have class players all round and a great goalscorer in Frank Stapleton. But we are confident of getting the right result on our home ground.

Left: Birmingham's Frank Worthington — he has skill and a knack for scoring goals and he's one for Spurs to watch on Saturday.

Glenn Hoddle
